Barbara's book is a very straightforward approach to preservation, protection and defense of collections. This is a great book for museum collection managers to share with their staff and volunteers who come in contact with museum artifacts. The content will give them a better understanding of the risks and needs that effect their collections.

As a professor and director of a university historic preservation program, I found this book to be an important contribution to the field. It is very well written and I now have added it to my course syllabus as a recommended reading. Well done! This book is destined to be a classic!
